

Couple that works together smiles together

Judy and Tony Ridle have been married twenty years. They love to work together and have over the years developed a successful business that is a quilter's dream. You can find their work at various festivals and on E-bay. Judy was shy about smiling and couldn't eat the foods she craved because of missing teeth. "I didn't like the fact that I was missing teeth and the color of my teeth was awful," explains Judy.

"When I met Dr. Jirik, he was a true professional. He was friendly and informative and explained how he could improve my smile. My trips to his office were few and painless. I dreaded the first appointment but it ended up being a wonderful experience. I would recommend it to anyone, even chickens like me. Now I can live my life and feel confident about my dental future."

"Judy's smile was so bright and beautiful; I decided a change for me was in order," says Tony Ridle. "I was tired of the appearance of my teeth and my lower face appeared sunken to me. I couldn't eat what I wanted and I was in pain. My new smile makes me feel and look younger. I am happy. Our treatment was a large investment but it was worth every penny to feel and look better because in the end your health is all that matters. Everyone at Dr. Jirik's office cares and that comes across in everything they do. There is no issue that can't be worked out, no problem too big. If a dentist's office could be said to be peaceful, this one is. We felt at home and among friends."

Pain and embarrassment are a way of life for many people. The American Dental Association estimates that one quarter of all adults over the age of sixty in the United States are missing some or all of their teeth.

Many are trying to smile, eat and speak with dentures that refuse to stay in place. The last twenty-two years have been an eye opening experience for us. We have helped people that want to look good for a child's wedding and be able to eat at the rehearsal dinner. Others want to scuba dive without losing their dentures. To some even a Snickers bar or a pickle would be a welcome treat. (The one common thread is for those that have dental problems a smile and a simple meal are never taken for granted.)

There are many ways we can help. Options are as varied as the patient and can include cosmetic crowns, implant based overdentures and implants with crowns. The implant options are now fast, easy and affordable with guided surgery. Any option can make your smile look and feel great. All can be specifically designed for your needs, as well as how you want to look and feel.

Cosmetic crowns are an ideal way to camouflage imperfections in your smile and give you the quality image you want.

The new Guided Surgery CT scan procedure allows us to do most cases in one visit with a reduced investment. Guided Surgery offers a long lasting solution with an emphasis on how your teeth work. It provides a proven implant method that promises better results than mini-implants or other options.

Implant based overdentures are an option that can make eating and chewing easier. The denture is snapped onto a bar anchored to implants. The denture is stable and doesn't rock like a traditional denture.

Implants with crowns offer an advanced replacement for missing teeth and can preserve bone. Crowns are placed on the dental implants and result in a natural looking smile.

These procedures and more are available at our office. Your initial appointment is a time of fact gathering, a thorough evaluation and in-depth conversation with Dr. Jirik. Our in-office CT scan provides valuable information about the state of your dental health and can indicate the amount of bone available for implants as well as the condition of your existing teeth. Dr. Jirik then designs the best treatment plan for your situation. After that it's up to you to decide to take the next step toward a new way of life.
